Öhlins Racing AB also manufactures shock absorbers for road going performance cars. We have developed a shock absorber kit for a variety of sporty cars, including BMW, Audi, Mitsubishi and Porsche, and are in the process of producing shock absorbers for many more.

This product range for street cars dramatically improves traction, handling and at the same time the comfort of the car. The shock absorbers are produced in Sweden and Japan with the specifications, and above all, the development made in Sweden.

All shock absorbers are individually tuned for each model and its specific characteristics. We test ourselves by fitting shock absorbers to each vehicle and conducting thorough tests. As usual, we believe in trying to combine the hard-to-define 'feeling' of our experienced drivers with measurement data obtained from our advanced equipment.
