Rally Armor 2002+ Impreza WRX/STi Skid Plate

Model : RA SP1

Manufacturer : Rally Armor

Protect your headers, oil pan, and other pricey parts on your Subaru with a skid plate. Fabricated from 3/16th" sturdy aluminum (corrosion free), the Rally Armor skid plate gives Subaru owners a peace of mind that the underbody is protected from potholes, debris, mud, snow, and other potential hazards of the road. This is a potentially necessary modification for street and light off-road driving. Standard thickness of Rally Armor plates are 3/16th" giving street cars the protection they need and the perfect combination of weight savings and excellent coverage that will not impinge on one's driving experience. For those who intend to rally their cars, thicker custom skid plates can be made according to specifications. Simply email us a detailed description of what you are looking for. Comes with stainless steel mounting hardware.

Please Select for appropriate application, NA or Turbo Models.
